Authorised Representative Fiducian Financial Services

Murdo adds value to clients by acting as a networking, financial education and lifestyle consultant. He is a touchstone to be consulted on all of your financial/lifestyle issues. The foundations of his client relationships are trust and respect, as his clients always receive an honest answer or opinion.

Murdo grew up in a small, family-run hotel just outside Inverness in Scotland and there he learnt the importance of reputation and relationship. After completing a Zoology degree at the University of Edinburgh he embarked on a successful career as a broadcast journalist and was for many years a science reporter and radio producer with the ABC in Sydney and Newcastle.

In 1997 he applied his intelligence, skill and enthusiasm to Financial Planning. He has achieved the Diploma in Financial Planning and is one of many elite planners in the Fiducian network to have gained Certified Financial Planner (CFP®) status, the Financial Planning Association's highest professional qualification. Murdo continues to undertake regular professional training and development to ensure his knowledge and skills are kept up to date.

When not working with his clients to secure their financial future, Murdo enjoys sailing, cycling, playing guitar and spending time with his wife and young children.
